THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A Ghost or No Ghost.

The place chosen was a small isolated pavilion in the garden, built in such a manner as not to admit of any jugglery. We inspected it, assured ourselves that there was no egress save through a tightly-closed window and a tightly closed door, at which last we all remained after we had left the young man in the pavilion. Meantime we had placed upon the table all necessary writing materials, and carried away all the lights. We were interested in the whole affair, and maintained a profound silence, while the Spaniard, who remained in our midst, sung or rather chanted, in a sweet and sad voice, the following words:

> "The sepulchre opens wide,
> The coffin-lid falls away,
> Behold by the black grave's side
> The phantom, grim and gray!"

After this first couplet, he lifted his voice solemnly and said,

"You have asked to see your friend Francois Vialat, who was drowned three years ago! what do you see?"

"I see," answered the young student from within the pavilion, "a pale white light that rises inside the window, but it has no form, and is nothing but a vague cloud."

We remained in a state of stupefaction.

"Are you afraid?" cried the powerful voice of the Spaniard.

"I am not afraid," answered the student, in a voice not less assured.

We scarcely breathed. The Spaniard was silent for a moment, then he struck the ground with his foot three times, and sang again, but this time with a deep commanding tone,

> "Phantom gray in the wide sea drowned,
> Wan of cheek and hollow of eye,
> Wrap thyself in thy shroud around,
> And hither come at thy master's cry!"

The song ended, the Spaniard turned once more to the door of the pavilion, and, with a voice still more solemn than before, cried,

"You who desire to sound the deep mysteries of the tomb, what do you see?"

We listened with breathless anxiety. The student replied, in the calm voice of a man who watches with curiosity the details of some physical phenomenon.

"I see the vapor elongate itself and take the shape of a phantom. This phantom has its head covered with a long vail. It remains in the place in which I first saw it."

"Are you afraid?" said the Spaniard, insultingly.

Proudly and bravely the young man answered, "I am not afraid!"

We scarce dared look at each other, so great was our astonishment and so much were we occupied with the wild motions of the Spaniard, who tossed his arms over his head and invoked three times a name sinful to utter, after which he sang the third voice of his demoniac song, in a shrill reverberant voice:

> "The phantom is come; the ghost is here
> He says, 'I hear my dear friend call,'
> He loves too well to feel a fear
> When I lift my veil and cast my pall"

The Spaniard, as soon as he had finished, repeated his diabolical question.

"What do you see?"

"I see," answered the student, "the spectre advancing. He lifts his veil—it is Francois Vialat—he approaches the table—he writes—it is his signature."

"Are you afraid?" cried the Spaniard with a sort of hoarse fury.

There was a moment of awful silence.—Then the young man replied in a calm and equable tone.

"No, I am not afraid."

Then the Spaniard, as if attacked with an epileptic fit, leaped and shivered in a sort of frenzy, and sang in a hoarse, guttural voice, the last internal stanza:

> "The phantom says to the braggart boy,
> 'I come to thee from the grave-yard cold;
> I clasp thy neck with a shuddering joy,
> My lips to thine forever I'll hold.'"

"What do you see!" cried the Spaniard, in a voice of thunder.

"He comes—nearer—nearer!—he pursues me! He opens his arms—he embraces me—help!—help! Oh, help, I say"

"Are you afraid! cried the Spaniard, with a sort of ferocious joy.

A piercing cry, then a stifled groan, were the only replies to this terrible question.

"Assist this young braggart," said the Spaniard to us, in a bitter voice. "I have won the bet, but it is enough to have given him a lesson. Let him keep the money, and be wiser in the future."

Having said this be walked rapidly away. We were stupefied. We opened the door and found the student in horrible convulsions. A paper signed with the name of Francois Vialat lay on the table. The moment the young man recovered his senses, he demanded where was the magician, the infamous magician who had been the cause of such horrible profanation. He wished to kill him. He ran to the tavern to seek him—he rushed like a madman out into the night to discover him, and we saw him no more.

"That is my story, boys!" said uncle Otis, drawing a deep breath.

In the dead silence that prevailed—so much were we impressed with the story—I was the only one who had the courage to say,

"And after all that, how is it that you don't beleive in ghosts?"

"Because," answered my uncle, "neither the young man nor the magician ever came back, nor with them the five-thousand francs that myself and fellow- travelers had contributed towards the bet. Those two rascals had robbed us, after having played under our noses a comedy the price of which I shall not consider too dear if it convinces you that it is only fools who believe in ghosts."

ACCIDENT ON THE M. & M. R. R.—About six A. M. yesterday, an accident occurred on the M. & M. R. R., between Genesee and Eagle street, which came near proving of a very serious nature, and was somewhat destructive to property as it was. Five cars of the freight train coming in ran off the track, and were somewhat injured. They were loaded with wheat, and it was necessary to send out a force of 60 men, to put the wheat into bags before they could raise the cars so as to permit other trains to pass. They were delayed till along in the afternoon, and the train due here at noon did not arrive till 3 o'clock, owing to the accident. No personal injuries were sustained.—Wisconsin.

MONSTER RAFT.—The largest raft arrived the other day at Dubuque, which ever came down the Mississippi. It contained 1,100,000 feet of lumber, and 950,000 shingles and lath.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

AND

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

QUARRY OF FREESTONE,

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry,

on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and tracks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

Cut Stone

of every description.

PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGIN

of any required dimension.

Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

☞ All Orders from the city or country will be promptly attended to.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A Ghost or No Ghost.

The place chosen was a small isolated pavilion in the garden, built in such a manner as not to admit of any jugglery. We inspected it, assured ourselves that there was no egress save through a tightly-closed window and a tightly closed door, at which last we all remained after we had left the young man in the pavilion. Meantime we had placed upon the table all necessary writing materials, and carried away all the lights. We were interested in the whole affair, and maintained a profound silence, while the Spaniard, who remained in our midst, sung or rather chanted, in a sweet and sad voice, the following words:

"The sepulchre opens wide,
The coffin-lid falls away;
Behold by the black grave's side
The phantom, grim and gray!"

After this first couplet, he lifted his voice solemnly and said,

"You have asked to see your friend Francois Vialat, who was drowned three years ago! what do you see?"

"I see," answered the young student from within the pavilion, "a pale white light that rises inside the window, but it has no form, and is nothing but a vague cloud."

We remained in a state of stupefaction.

"Are you afraid?" cried the powerful voice of the Spaniard.

"I am not afraid," answered the student, in a voice not less assured.

We scarcely breathed. The Spaniard was silent for a moment, then he struck the ground with his foot three times, and sang again, but this time with a deep commanding tone,

"Phantom gray in the wide sea drowned,
Wan of cheek and hollow of eye,
Wrap thyself in thy shroud around,
And hither come at thy master's cry!"

The song ended, the Spaniard turned once more to the door of the pavilion, and, with a voice still more solemn than before, cried,

"You who desire to sound the deep mysteries of the tomb, what do you see?"

We listened with breathless anxiety. The student replied, in the calm voice of a man who watches with curiosity the details of some physical phenomenon.

"I see the vapor elongate itself and take the shape of a phantom. This phantom has its head covered with a long vail. It remains in the place in which I first saw it."

"Are you afraid?" said the Spaniard, insultingly.

Proudly and bravely the young man answered, "I am not afraid!"

We scarce dared look at each other, so great was our astonishment and so much were we occupied with the wild motions of the Spaniard, who tossed his arms over his head and invoked three times a name sinful to utter, after which he sang the third voice of his demoniac song, in a shrill reverberant voice:

"The phantom is come; the ghost is here.
He says, 'I hear my dear friend call,'
He loves too well to feel a fear
When I lift my veil and cast my pall."

The Spaniard, as soon as he had finished, repeated his diabolical question.

"What do you see?"

"I see," answered the student, "the spectre advancing. He lifts his veil—it is Francois Vialat— he approaches the table —he writes—it is his signature."

"Are you afraid?" cried the Spaniard with a sort of hoarse fury.

There was a moment of awful silence.—Then the young man replied in a calm and equable tone.

"No, I am not afraid."

Then the Spaniard, as if attacked with an epileptic fit, leaped and shivered in a sort of frenzy, and sang in a hoarse, guttural voice, the last infernal stanza:

"The phantom says to the braggart boy,
'I come to thee from the grave-yard cold;
I clasp thy neck with a shuddering joy,
My lips to thine forever I'll hold.'"

"What do you see!" cried the Spaniard, in a voice of thunder.

"He comes—nearer—nearer!—he pursues me! He opens his arms—he embraces me—help!—help! Oh, help, I say!"

"Are you afraid!" cried the Spaniard, with a sort of ferocious joy.

A piercing cry, then a stifled groan, were the only replies to this terrible question.

"Assist this young braggart," said the Spaniard to us, in a bitter voice. "I have won the bet, but it is enough to have given him a lesson. Let him keep the money, and be wiser in the future."

Having said this be walked rapidly away. We were stupefied. We opened the door and found the student in horrible convulsions. A paper signed with the name of Francois Vialat lay on the table. The moment the young man recovered his senses, he demanded where was the magician, the infamous magician who had been the cause of such horrible profanation. He wished to kill him. He ran to the tavern to seek him—he rushed like a madman out into the night to discover him, and we saw him no more.

"That is my story, boys!" said uncle Otis, drawing a deep breath.

In the dead silence that prevailed—so much were we impressed with the story—I was the only one who had the courage to say,

"And after all that, how is it that you don't beleive in ghosts?"

"Because," answered my uncle, "neither the young man nor the magician ever came back, nor with them the five-thousand francs that myself and fellow-travelers had contributed towards the bet. Those two rascals had robbed us, after having played under our noses a comedy the price of which I shall not consider too dear if it convinces you that it is only fools who believe in ghosts."

ACCIDENT ON THE M. & M. R. R.—About six A. M. yesterday, an accident occurred on the M. & M. R. R., between Genesee and Eagle street, which came near proving of a very serious nature, and was somewhat destructive to property as it was. Five cars of the freight train coming in ran off the track, and were somewhat injured. They were loaded with wheat, and it was necessary to send out a force of 60 men, to put the wheat into bags before they could raise the cars so as to permit other trains to pass. They were delayed till along in the afternoon, and the train due here at noon did not arrive till 3 o'clock, owing to the accident. No personal injuries were sustained. —Wisconsin.

MONSTER RAFT.—The largest raft arrived the other day at Dubuque, which ever came down the Mississippi. It contained 1,100,000 feet of lumber, and 950,000 shingles and lath.

Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

QUARRY OF FREESTONE,

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry,

on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

All Orders from the city or country will be promptly attended to.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

DAILY GAZETTE.

A Ghost or No Ghost.

The place chosen was a small isolated pavilion in the garden, built in such a manner as not to admit of any jugglery. We inspected it, assured ourselves that there was no egress save through a tightly-closed window and a tightly closed door, at which last we all remained after we had left the young man in the pavilion. Meantime we had placed upon the table all necessary writing materials, and carried away all the lights. We were interested in the whole affair, and maintained a profound silence, while the Spaniard, who remained in our midst, sung or rather chanted, in a sweet and sad voice, the following words:

"The sepulchre opens wide,
The coffin-lid falls away;
Behold by the black grave's side
The phantom, grim and gray!"

After this first couplet, he lifted his voice solemnly and said,

"You have asked to see your friend Francois Vialat, who was drowned three years ago! what do you see?"

"I see," answered the young student from within the pavilion, "a pale white light that rises inside the window, but it has no form, and is nothing but a vague cloud."

We remained in a state of stupefaction.

"Are you afraid?" cried the powerful voice of the Spaniard.

"I am not afraid," answered the student, in a voice not less assured.

We scarcely breathed. The Spaniard was silent for a moment, then he struck the ground with his foot three times, and sang again, but this time with a deep commanding tone,

"Phantom gray in the wide sea drowned,
Wan of cheek and hollow of eye,
Wrap thyself in thy shroud around,
And hither come at thy master's cry!"

The song ended, the Spaniard turned once more to the door of the pavilion, and, with a voice still more solemn than before, cried,

"You who desire to sound the deep mysteries of the tomb, what do you see?"

We listened with breathless anxiety. The student replied, in the calm voice of a man who watches with curiosity the details of some physical phenomenon,

"I see the vapor elongate itself and take the shape of a phantom. This phantom has its head covered with a long vail. It remains in the place in which I first saw it."

"Are you afraid?" said the Spaniard, insultingly.

Proudly and bravely the young man answered, "I am not afraid!"

We scarce dared look at each other, so great was our astonishment and so much were we occupied with the wild motions of the Spaniard, who tossed his arms over his head and invoked three times a name sinful to utter, after which he sang the third voice of his demoniac song, in a shrill reverberant voice:

"The phantom is come; the ghost is here.
He says, 'I hear my dear friend call,'
He loves too well to feel a fear
When I lift my veil and cast my pall."

The Spaniard, as soon as he had finished, repeated his diabolical question.

"What do you see?"

"I see," answered the student, "the spectre advancing. He lifts his veil—it is Francois Vialat— he approaches the table—he writes—it is his signature."

"Are you afraid?" cried the Spaniard with a sort of hoarse fury.

There was a moment of awful silence.—Then the young man replied in a calm and equable tone.

"No, I am not afraid."

Then the Spaniard, as if attacked with an epileptic fit, leaped and shivered in a sort of frenzy, and sang in a hoarse, guttural voice, the last infernal stanza:

"The phantom says to the braggart boy,
'I come to thee from the grave-yard cold;
I clasp thy neck with a shuddering joy,
My lips to thine forever I'll hold.'"

"What do you see!" cried the Spaniard, in a voice of thunder.

"He comes—nearer—nearer!—he pursues me! He opens his arms—he embraces me—help!—help! Oh, help, I say"

"Are you afraid! cried the Spaniard, with a sort of ferocious joy.

A piercing cry, then a stifled groan, were the only replies to this terrible question.

"Assist this young braggart," said the Spaniard to us, in a bitter voice. "I have won the bet, but it is enough to have given him a lesson. Let him keep the money, and be wiser in the future."

Having said this be walked rapidly away. We were stupefied. We opened the door and found the student in horrible convulsions. A paper signed with the name of Francois Vialat lay on the table. The moment the young man recovered his senses, he demanded where was the magician, the infamous magician who had been the cause of such horrible profanation. He wished to kill him. He ran to the tavern to seek him—he rushed like a madman out into the night to discover him, and we saw him no more.

"That is my story, boys!" said uncle Otis, drawing a deep breath.

In the dead silence that prevailed—so much were we impressed with the story—I was the only one who had the courage to say,

"And after all that, how is it that you don't beleive in ghosts?"

"Because," answered my uncle, "neither the young man nor the magician ever came back, nor with them the five-thousand francs that myself and fellow- travelers had contributed towards the bet. Those two rascals had robbed us, after having played under our noses a comedy the price of which I shall not consider too dear if it convinces you that it is only fools who believe in ghosts."

ACCIDENT ON THE M. & M. R. R.—About six A. M. yesterday, an accident occurred on the M. & M. R. R., between Genesee and Eagle street, which came near proving of a very serious nature, and was somewhat destructive to property as it was. Five cars of the freight train coming in ran off the track, and were somewhat injured. They were loaded with wheat, and it was necessary to send out a force of 60 men, to put the wheat into bags before they could raise the cars so as to permit other trains to pass. They were delayed till along in the afternoon, and the train due here at noon did not arrive till 3 o'clock, owing to the accident. No personal injuries were sustained. —Wisconsin.

MONSTER RAFT.—The largest raft arrived the other day at Dubuque, which ever came down the Mississippi. It contained 1,100,000 feet of lumber, and 950,000 shingles and lath.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

BUILDERS.
Important Discoveries and New Arrangements!

THE subscriber has discovered upon his premises a splendid

QUARRY OF FREESTONE,

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material.

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry,

on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish

Cut Stone
of every description,
PLAIN, MOULDED, CARVED OR POLISHED FLAGGIN
of any required dimension.
Curbing, Paving, Ruble and Coursing

stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

Mr. Seward in Missouri.

We learn from the editorial correspondence of the Milwaukee Sentinel that Mr. Seward passed through northern Missouri, over the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad on his way to Kansas; and so far from meeting with an unfriendly reception, he was treated with respect. He had been heralded by telegraph all along the line of the road, and the people came out to see him. At Chilcothe he was invited to address the people. An audience of several hundred people were addressed by Mr. Seward in his happiest vein and with excellent effect. At St. Jo, the Senator was surprised with a reception from a company of Wide Awakes, and a band ready to accompany him to his quarters where about a thousand people greeted him with enthusiastic cheers and a warm and cordial greeting. Mr. Seward was deeply moved at the unlooked for welcome, and expressed his acknowledgments in glowing terms.

It is evident that the prejudices of the southern people against the republican party are fading away, and that when they become better acquainted with our leading men and our principles that they will regard us with no unfriendly spirit. It is something that marks progress, at any rate, that Gov. Seward can traverse the state of Missouri, be welcomed by the people and solicited to make political speeches.

The Little Giant Used Up.

Stephen A. Douglas, otherwise called the "little giant" or the "little sucker," started upon a journey some months ago, to "see his mother." On his way he very soon began to be "betrayed into a speech" by his his friends; and after this first betrayal he wandered about the country—north, south and east, making speeches and neglecting to visit his mother. The consequence of such unfilial conduct has at last overtaken him. At Cleveland, his organs of speech began to fail, and his friends were astonished to hear him attempt to talk about his "g-u-r-r-e-a-t pur-r inciple," in almost inaudible whispers, ending each word with a bark—a palpable imitation of canine sounds, which might have proceeded from a cur with a bone in his throat.

Considering that Mr. Douglas had been attacked by a multitude of diseases, while in the senate, especially when important votes were to be taken, he has surprised us with the vigor which he has displayed every day, almost, for some months, in his speeches and by his industry in travel.—Nothing but the prospect of occupying the white house or using up Breckinridge, we are certain could have sustained him in his efforts. It is astonishing that a man who has gout in the stomach, bronchitis, diarrhea, inflammatory rheumatism, has been able to do so much as he has done upon his presidential stumping expedition. It ought not, therefore, to be set down to his discredit, that after barking out some sentences of a speech, at Cleveland, Columbus and other points on his route, he should acknowledge himself used up at Cincinnati. Upon his arrival at that city, on Wednesday, Mr. Pugh announced that Mr. Douglas, having made 12 speeches within three days, and being without voice (he could not even get up a bark as he did at Cleveland,) he was unable to speak to the "immense crowd" assembled. He, however, arose and made an attempt to speak, but a low mutter was all that could be heard by those around the stand.

Is it not about time that this farce should close, and that Mr. Douglas should retire to his home and wait the verdict of the people in his case? If he has himself no more respect for the dignity of the presidential office, to which he aspires, than he has manifested, certainly those who have, and who are his friends, should take him out of the "ring" and put him to bed.

A Great Meeting in Pennsylvania.

The telegraph, last night, gave an account of the assembling of the largest republican meeting ever held in Pennsylvania, which convened at Pittsburg yesterday. Curtin, the republican candidate for governor, spoke at three stands, and was most enthusiastically cheered. Senator Wade of Ohio and Col. Curtin filled the time at the main stand until Tom Corwin arrived at three o'clock. He created a tremendous sensation, and spoke at length. At the second stand, T. Crown of, Westmoreland and Charles L. Armour of Maryland. At the third stand, A. W. Campbell of Virginia, and McMichael of Philadelphia. At the fourth stand Senator Caldwell of Virginia, and Mr. Coffey of Philadelphia. The procession contained representatives from nearly all the manufacturing establishments and work shops in the two cities, and was about an hour and a half in passing a given point. There are various estimates of the number of people on the ground, which was immense. Two hundred and fifty wide-awakes from Wheeling, Virginia, were in the procession. Carl Schurz spoke at night in Layfayette Hall to the Germans.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.—Our foreign intelligence grows interesting and exciting.—Garibald has become a power whom neither diplomacy nor bayonets can divert from his object—the freedom and unity of Italy. The King of Sardinia has evidently been restrained by his fears and the counsels of France from giving Garrabaldi aid and encouragement, heretofore; but the success of the "liberator of Italy," and the enthusiasm of the people of the whole Italian peninsula, in favor of throwing off the foreign yoke, and constituting themselves an independent power, is, such that Victor Emanuel is obliged to take the lead of the revolution, or be crushed by it. The King has invaded the dominions of the Pope, and now there is no retreat—either the King must be dethroned and the hopes of the Italian people destroyed, or the Pope will lose his temporal power. Fortunately France is in a condition and temper to act independently of the Pope, and Louis Napoleon will probably content himself with protecting the Pope in the city of Rome, while he will permit the territories of the church, outside of Rome, to become a part of the Kingdom of Sardinia. If Austria had not revolutionary elements in her midst, she would undoubtedly march to the relief of the King of Naples and the Pope, but Hungary and Venetia would then be in a blaze of revolution, and thus she is compelled to keep the peace. Amidst such combustible material as there is now in Europe, a general insurrection of the people would not be surprising, and many persons well posted in foreign politics think that the year will not close without a general European war.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

John Henry Pierce, a lad eleven years of age, shot and killed a playmate, James Cox, at Wilton, Saratoga, in Aug. Price has just been tried on a charge of murder, which resulted in his conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

If the United States and its territories were as thickly populated as Great Britain, they would contain 750,000,000 of people, a number nearly equal to the whole population of the globe.

Garibaldi was a candle maker on Staten Island, N. Y., during his exile, and it is to be said to his credit, that his work, though wicked, were for a shining light in the centre of grease.

The great storm on the Gulf coast on the 16th inst., was one of the most disastrous that ever visited this country. So far, at least thirty-three lives are known to have been lost, on land and water. The loss of property in Mobile alone amounts to $740,000. Biloxi and Belize are in heaps of ruins. Pascogoula and other small towns were submerged to the depth of several feet, and nearly all the houses either blown down or washed away. The total loss along the the coast in towns and in the country, and on the gulf, is computed at millions of dollars.

FERGUSON'S PLANET.—The new asteroid discovered by Ferguson, at the national observatory, was seen at Cambridge on Friday night. It is very small—not more than 40 miles in diameter.

HYMENIAL.—Hon. Edward Everett, of the N. Y. Ledger, it is pretty well understood, is going to do a much more sensible thing than heading the forlorn hope of a forlorn political party, which hasn't the ghost of a chance of ever making him president of the United States; that is to say, he is going to take unto himself a wife.—The lady is a South Carolinian, and enjoys a very respectable literary reputation there. The time for the nuptials is not definitely fixed yet, but it will probly be about Christmas.

A letter from Mrs. Gurney, the English woman who eloped with her coachman, declares the apology published in the American papers over her name to be a forgery. Mrs. Gurney is not a quakeress, as has been supposed, but a member of the established church. Her husband, who is a member of the British parliament and immensely rich, is the son of a Quaker.

John H. Keating, of Utica, N. Y., went to Georgia, the first of this month, a flaming democrat, believing the peculiar institution to be a very good thing. He returned in about a week, a radical republican, converted by his own experiences. He went as an agent to sell a patent spring bed, but the authorities of Savannah had their suspicions excited in some way, and ordered him to go back by the steamer that took him there. Perhaps they thought his bed an infernal contrivance to get up insurrections.

Hints to School Boards.

It is now about time to engage teachers and make arrangements for your fall and winter schools, therefore it becomes your duty to look well to the character and qualifications of those you employ, and to the condition of your school houses and all that pertains thereto, so as to render your schools as efficient as possible, and have the school fund judiciously expended. Being a teacher of much experience, I offer the following suggestions.

1. Employ teachers of such moral character that they will be worthy examples for your children to imitate. A teacher's character is contagious, and it ought to be so. Of course he ought to be able to teach the sciences, he must also take interest in the improvement of youth and their advancement in learning. His soul ought to be in this as much as in securing a rich office.—Those who intend to make teaching their whole business ought to be preferred.

2d. See that the house is in a proper condition—that the roof and weather boarding are sound enough to keep out the rain and snow, repair the windows where the glass is broken, mend the plastering, lining and floor so as to leave no openings for the wind to blow upon the pupils, mend the door if it needs its, put a lock on it and let the teacher have charge of the key, and repair the shutters and door pannels that have been knocked out.

3. A school house ought always to be painted and surrounded by shade trees, the play grounds ought to be clear of rubbish, the boys should have a place to play ball and the girls a place for their sports. If the walls of a school house be marked with caricatures and obscene writing it tells a bad tale about the district, visitors and travelers will notice it. An observant teacher may understand from the appearance of a school house, even in vacation, what the character of the school is. Those who have interest in the respectability of their neighborhood and who wish to invite good people to settle among them, should look to the appearance of their school houses and the character of their schools.

4. Have plenty of wood supplied, also some kindling wood, by all means have a wood house and do not put the teacher to the necessity of suspending school for want of wood or of chopping it himself; if the stove is damaged get a new one, have it blacked, have a good pipe and be sure that the flue is so contrived that it will not set fire to the house. Have a vessel to carry ashes, and do not allow it to be deposited where it may set fire to something valuable.

5. Have a clean water bucket and a drinking cup. If you have a well or a spring at the school house, have it cleaned out and protected so that no nuisance can be thrown into it. Supply brooms and hand brushes so as to keep the floor, benches and desks clean. The larger pupils ought to take turns in bringing water, sweeping and brushing, except when they are rich enough to hire it done. The teacher should regulate the fires.

6. Every school house ought to have a black-board; after two or three terms it will need repainting, this should be done so as to have it fairly dried before the school begins. Provide a supply of chalk and a box to hold it. Make a rubber by fixing a piece sheep skin, with the wool on it, to a block of a proper size to be held in the hand.

7. Attend on the first day of school and witness its commencement, and afterwards visit the school as often as possible so as to see for yourselves how it is progressing.—Your presence and a few words of exhortation (even in your homely style) addressed to the pupils will aid the teacher very much in keeping order and encouraging study.

8. Sustain the teacher in such a course of discipline as the welfare of the school requires. Peace in the school and the improvement of the pupils ought to be the standard of its administration.

9. Make yourselves well acquainted with the school law, read the reports of the superintendents of public instruction; get copies of them, the state prints them for your benefit and you will not be obliged to pay money for them. If any difficulties occur in your school write for advice to the superintendent at Madison.

10. If you allow the night gatherings, such as lyceums, spelling or singing schools, attend them yourselves and require all the young people who attend to join in the exercises. If they cannot be made as profitable as the day schools prohibit them altogether.

11. From the "New York Teacher" I copy the following receipt:

"An appliance for black-boards can be made by boiling one pound of logwood in water enough to cover it, and adding half an ounce of green vitriol (copperas.) This is superior to paint, as it stains the wood and will not wear off, dries in a few minutes and bears no gloss."

The following height of desks and seats, I copy from the first report of the Indiana superintendent:

Seat	16 inches,	front	edge of	desk	28	inches.
"	15	"	"	"	26½	"
"	14	"	"	"	25	"
"	13	"	"	"	23½	"
"	12	"	"	"	21	"

Children that need seats less than a foot high have no business in a public school.

G. D. HUNT.

TAKE MANKIND AS THEY ARE.—Here is a wise remark from Mrs. Evans' novel of Adam Bede:

"These fellow mortals, every one, must be accepted as they are. You can neither straighten their noses, nor brighten their wit nor rectify their dispositions. And it is these people, among whom your life is passed, that it is needful you should tolerate, pity and love. It is these more or less ugly, stupid, inconsistent people, whose moments of goodness you should be able to admire—for whom you should cherish all possible hopes, all possible patience."

The Cleveland National Democrat states that the Eleventh Ward Wide-Awake club of Cleveland adjourned on Saturday evening in compliment, as the mover said, "to Stephen A. Douglass, who has just arrived in that that city, and to whom the Republican party was deeply indebted."

Miss Catherine E. Beecher, sister of Henry Ward Beecher, is said to have become an Episcopalian.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,

[Our report came in at so late an hour to-day that we are compelled to condense it.]

Senator Douglas arrived at Indianapolis last evening. He was to speak at the democratic state convention to-day, and other places in the state.

The California Breckinridge state convention have nominated an electoral ticket, and resolved in convention to revise the state constitution.

The constitutional union executive committee of Pennsylvania met at Harrisburgh yesterday, and nominated a Bell and Everett electoral ticket.

Correspondence of the Janesville Gazette.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26th, 1860.

EDS. GAZETTE:—I wrote you hastily, last evening, and will scribble a little more to-night. My object in coming to this city was to attend a religious meeting, denominated in the call, the "North Western Conference." The call for the meeting had been out for some time, the purpose of the convocation being to bring about some effective plan of organization for the more rapid spread and better support of christianity, as understood and interpreted by the Universalist denomination. Of the clergymen and laity a large number responded to the call. They came from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota.—Some sixty or seventy ministers are present, among whom, I am pleased to note, several Unitarians of eminent standing and ability. The meeting assembled yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, at the First Universalist church in this city, known as St. Paul's. After a temporary organization, Rev. A. C. Barry, of Illinois, was made president of the conference. Vice presidents, one from each of the states represented, were chosen, and three secretaries. Business committees were appointed, from whom some reports have been made to-day, and others are expected to report to-morrow. I don't wish to burden your columns with the details of our business. This much I may say with propriety,—the measures proposed, if they can be carried out, will tend largely to a genuine religious growth and prosperity.—And I am happy to add, that there is apparent in the conference, a moral earnestness and determination, on the part of clergy and laity, to make this movement tell for a great spiritual good. To this end I trust many will labor with head, heart, hand and purse, and with a zeal and perseverance that will surely overcome every obstacle.

I have really enjoyed myself in the interview thus far. 'Tis pleasant to meet and greet old friends, and, as an editor once said, have "a shaking demonstration that the muscles of their right arm are as strong as ever." Speaking of shaking hands, calls up a remark of Dickens' in his David Copperfield. On a certain accasion, David, on being introduced to one who was to be his tutor, I think, is made to speak of him in this wise: "Turning upon me a lustreless eye, that reminded me of a long-forgotten blind old horse who once used to crop the grass, and tumble over the graves, in Blunderstone church-yard, he said he was glad to see me; and then he gave me his hand; which I didn't know what to do with, as it did nothing for itself." Did you never observe that this is just the way in which some men shake hands? They may say they are glad to see you, perhaps, but when they take your hand, they are so excessively careful, and the pressure is so slight, that you can't help thinking that they are afraid of catching some contagious disease. When I salute a friend, give me the speaking eye, the grip that makes the blood tingle to the finger ends, and a right-up-and-down hearty shake that gives the body and spirit a start all over.

Yerterday and to-day I have seen many friends whom I have not met before in fifteen years. These religious meetings,—these mass meetings, I mean, and the same may be said of political gatherings, are valuable, if for no other reason, that they bring people together, furnish opportunity to enlarge the circle of acquaintance, revive old friendships, and knit heart to heart more firmly by the strong ties of sympathy and fraternal love. And right here permit me to say that in society generally social intercourse is not sufficiently observed. Neighbors too frequently live and die strangers to each other. Heart needs to throb in unison with heart. Friend needs to hold fellowship with friend.

Our conference was organized, as I said, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. At 3 P. M., religious services were held by Rev. G. R. Brown of Ohio. In the evening a very interesting Sunday School meeting was held. Several good addresses were offered. The singing, by the teachers and pupils connected with the two large and prosperous Universalist Sunday Schools of this city was excellent and spirit stirring. To listen to good vocal music from the sweet lips of hundreds of children is indeed to me an entertainment of no ordinary character.—There is among our people a growing interest in behalf of the Sunday School. This morning from 8½ to 9½ a prayer meeting was held at which both the word and the spirit were truly good and devotional. At 3 o'clock P. M., a sermon of rare merit was delivered by Rev. J. S. Dennis, of Dubuque, Iowa. This evening another conference and prayer meeting has been largely attended. We have really had thus far a good time.

Some touching remarks were offered this evening by Rev. Mr. Staples, Unitarian, of Milwaukee, concerning the Lady Elgin calamity. There is still deep sorrowing over that terrible wreck of human life. How painfully must the heart of the sufferer throb as the eye runs over the daily journal, and the words, "another body found," arrest the undivided attention! O! what terrible disasters have occurred within the memory of men now living, on our waters—the great lakes and rivers and the greater ocean, as also on the many railroads that form a network all over our country! How long shall this wholesale slaughter be allowed? Is it inevitable? I do not believe it. Human recklessness is the cause.

It is late—I must close. Truly,
— W. —

THE QUEEN'S SHARKS.—The harbor of Trincomalee swarms with gigantic sharks, and strange to relate, they are all under British protection; and if any one is found molesting or injuring them, the fine is £10 or an imprisonment! How this ridiculous custom originated it is hard to say; but we are told that in the early days of British conquest in the east, sailors were apt to desert, and seek refuge in the then inaccessible wilds of the interior, and of later years when civilization has unbarred the gates of Cingalese commerce to all nations of the world, the soldiers of the regiment stationed at Trincomalee, discontented with their lot in life, were wont to escape from the thraldom of service, by swimming off to American and other vessels, preferring a chance, under a strange flag, to a hard certainty under their own. Thus the Queen's sharks are duly protected as a sort of water police for the prevention of desertion both from the army and navy.

SOLD.—The Columbus (O.) Statesman edited by Geo. W. Mannypenny, recently published a poem, entitled the "Democratic Banner," ostensibly devoted to the praises of Douglas. It purported to be from a lady, and the editor was so pleased with it that he introduced it to his readers in a complimentary editorial paragraph. On more minute investigation, after it was published, it was found to be an acrostic, the first letters of each line forming the following sentence:

William H. Glass, a member of the Cincinnati common council, was severely tho' not fatally shot in the lower jaw by a ballet girl named Eliza White, whom he had seduced and abandoned. She entered his confectionary store and asked him to arrange the difficulty that existed between them; he refused to have anything more to do with her; whereupon she drew forth a pistol, and shot him. She was immediately arrested, and then tried to commit suicide by drinking a quantity of laudanum, but by prompt remedies, her life was saved.

YOUNG AMERICA FOREVER!

"Come one, come all, this Rock shall fly
From its firm base, as soon as I."

SUCH were the stiring words of James Fitz James to the bold chieftain, Rhoderick Dhu, in the Mountain Passes of Scotland, and now

MOSES HARSH,
Proprietor of the
Original Young America CLOTHING HOUSE,

adopts the language of the gallant Scottish hero as his own, and defies the competition and braggart blowing of all the

Petty Slop Shops

in the land. From the fact that the Original

Young America Clothing House

has held for the last

EIGHT YEARS

the conceded reputation of being the best and largest and, above all, the

Cheapest Establishment

of its kind in the state. That during that time other Clothing Stores have attempted to compete with it in this city, and one after another have busted. The proprietor of the

Oldest Clothing House in the City

feels that he has now the right to say it is as firmly fixed as a rock and as immovable as the everlasting hills. He knows the truth of what he says.

The People of Rock County

are his witnesses. They will not lie; nor is he under the necessity of attempting to enforce

A BOGUS LAW

upon them, to get them to purchase their

Fall and Winter Clothing

from him. He has just returned from the east, where he has purchased the

Largest and Best Stock of Clothing

of all kinds, including the finest

CLOTH COATS, CASSIMERE COATS,

and the best variety of

BEAVER OVERCOATS!

ever brought to the west. Also,

Ready Made Clothing for Men & Boy's Wear,

of every description, with

Pants and Vests

to match, as well as any quantity of

Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Handkercicfs, Stocks, Under Shirts,

and every article of

Wearing Apparel

that man can want.

If to "mitigate crime and alleviate the sufferings of mankind generally," by high sounding pretenses is a virtue, then the proprietor of the

Original Young America Clothing House

does not claim that virtue. He is ready to do what he promises, THE PEOPLE KNOW IT, and the thousands who have purchased, for years, their Clothing from him, from the best quality of

Hats and Caps

down to Draws and Socks, never would know what the words

"EXTRAVAGANT PRICES,"

meant, were they not to stray accidentally into other establishments pretending to compete with him.

His Merchant Tailoring Department

is unsurpassed, and his accomplished cutter,

MR. A. B. MC'LEAN,

who is at the head of it, is a gentleman of long experience and most excellent taste; the well dressed gentlemen of this city are walking witnesses of his conceded skill. Come then, one and all, if you want

CHEAP CLOTHING,

to the

Original Young America Clothing House

AT THE OLD PLACE IN

Mr. Seward in Missouri.

We learn from the editorial correspondence of the Milwaukee Sentinel that Mr. Seward passed through northern Missouri, over the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad on his way to Kansas; and so far from meeting with an unfriendly reception, he was treated with respect. He had been heralded by telegraph all along the line of the road, and the people came out to see him. At Chilcothe he was invited to address the people. An audience of several hundred people were addressed by Mr. Seward in his happiest vein and with excellent effect. At St. Jo, the Senator was surprised with a reception from a company of Wide Awakes, and a band ready to accompany him to his quarters where about a thousand people greeted him with enthusiastic cheers and a warm and cordial greeting. Mr. Seward was deeply moved at the unlooked for welcome, and expressed his acknowledgments in glowing terms.

It is evident that the prejudices of the southern people against the republican party are fading away, and that when they become better acquainted with our leading men and our principles that they will regard us with no unfriendly spirit. It is something that marks progress, at any rate, that Gov. Seward can traverse the state of Missouri, be welcomed by the people and solicited to make political speeches.

The Little Giant Used Up.

Stephen A. Douglas, otherwise called the "little giant" or the "little sucker," started upon a journey some months ago, to "see his mother." On his way he very soon began to be "betrayed into a speech" by his his friends; and after this first betrayal he wandered about the country—north, south and east, making speeches and neglecting to visit his mother. The consequence of such unfilial conduct has at last overtaken him. At Cleveland, his organs of speech began to fail, and his friends were astonished to hear him attempt to talk about his "g-u-r-r-e-a-t pur-r inciple," in almost inaudible whispers, ending each word with a bark—a palpable imitation of canine sounds, which might have proceeded from a cur with a bone in his throat.

Considering that Mr. Douglas had been attacked by a multitude of diseases, while in the senate, especially when important votes were to be taken, he has surprised us with the vigor which he has displayed every day, almost, for some months, in his speeches and by his industry in travel.—Nothing but the prospect of occupying the white house or using up Breckinridge, we are certain could have sustained him in his efforts. It is astonishing that a man who has gout in the stomach, bronchitis, diarrhea, inflammatory rheumatism, has been able to do so much as he has done upon his presidential stumping expedition. It ought not, therefore, to be set down to his discredit, that after barking out some sentences of a speech, at Cleveland, Columbus and other points on his route, he should acknowledge himself used up at Cincinnati. Upon his arrival at that city, on Wednesday, Mr. Pugh announced that Mr. Douglas, having made 12 speeches within three days, and being without voice (he could not even get up a bark as he did at Cleveland,) he was unable to speak to the "immense crowd" assembled. He, however, arose and made an attempt to speak, but a low mutter was all that could be heard by those around the stand.

Is it not about time that this farce should close, and that Mr. Douglas should retire to his home and wait the verdict of the people in his case? If he has himself no more respect for the dignity of the presidential office, to which he aspires, than he has manifested, certainly those who have, and who are his friends, should take him out of the "ring" and put him to bed.

A Great Meeting in Pennsylvania.

The telegraph, last night, gave an account of the assembling of the largest republican meeting ever held in Pennsylvania, which convened at Pittsburg yesterday. Curtin, the republican candidate for governor, spoke at three stands, and was most enthusiastically cheered. Senator Wade of Ohio and Col. Curtin filled the time at the main stand until Tom Corwin arrived at three o'clock. He created a tremendous sensation, and spoke at length. At the second stand, T. Crown of, Westmoreland and Charles L. Armour of Maryland. At the third stand, A. W. Campbell of Virginia, and McMichael of Philadelphia. At the fourth stand Senator Caldwell of Virginia, and Mr. Coffey of Philadelphia. The procession contained representatives from nearly all the manufacturing establishments and work shops in the two cities, and was about an hour and a half in passing a given point. There are various estimates of the number of people on the ground, which was immense. Two hundred and fifty wide-awakes from Wheeling, Virginia, were in the procession. Carl Schurz spoke at night in Layfayette Hall to the Germans.

Foreign Affairs.—Our foreign intelligence grows interesting and exciting.—Garibald has become a power whom neither diplomacy nor bayonets can divert from his object—the freedom and unity of Italy. The King of Sardinia has evidently been restrained by his fears and the counsels of France from giving Garrabaldi aid and encouragement, heretofore; but the success of the "liberator of Italy," and the enthusiasm of the people of the whole Italian peninsula, in favor of throwing off the foreign yoke, and constituting themselves an independent power, is, such that Victor Emanuel is obliged to take the lead of the revolution, or be crushed by it. The King has invaded the dominions of the Pope, and now there is no retreat—either the King must be dethroned and the hopes of the Italian people destroyed, or the Pope will lose his temporal power. Fortunately France is in a condition and temper to act independently of the Pope, and Louis Napoleon will probably content himself with protecting the Pope in the city of Rome, while he will permit the territories of the church, outside of Rome, to become a part of the Kingdom of Sardinia. If Austria had not revolutionary elements in her midst, she would undoubtedly march to the relief of the King of Naples and the Pope, but Hungary and Venetia would then be in a blaze of revolution, and thus she is compelled to keep the peace. Amidst such combustible material as there is now in Europe, a general insurrection of the people would not be surprising, and many persons well posted in foreign politics think that the year will not close without a general European war.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

John Henry Pierce, a lad eleven years of age, shot and killed a playmate, James Cox, at Wilton, Saratoga, in Aug. Price has just been tried on a charge of murder, which resulted in his conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

If the United States and its territories were as thickly populated as Great Britain, they would contain 750,000,000 of people, a number nearly equal to the whole population of the globe.

Garibaldi was a candle maker on Staten Island, N. Y., during his exile, and it is to be said to his credit, that his work, though wicked, were for a shining light in the centre of grease.

The great storm on the Gulf coast on the 16th inst., was one of the most disastrous that ever visited this country. So far, at least thirty-three lives are known to have been lost, on land and water. The loss of property in Mobile alone amounts to $740,000. Biloxi and Belize are in heaps of ruins. Pascogoula and other small towns were submerged to the depth of several feet, and nearly all the houses either blown down or washed away. The total loss along the the coast in towns and in the country, and on the gulf, is computed at millions of dollars.

Hymenial.—Hon. Edward Everett, of the N. Y. Ledger, it is pretty well understood, is going to do a much more sensible thing than heading the forlorn hope of a forlorn political party, which hasn't the ghost of a chance of ever making him president of the United States; that is to say, he is going to take unto himself a wife.—The lady is a South Carolinian, and enjoys a very respectable literary reputation there. The time for the nuptials is not definitely fixed yet, but it will probly be about Christmas.

A letter from Mrs. Gurney, the English woman who eloped with her coachman, declares the apology published in the American papers over her name to be a forgery. Mrs. Gurney is not a quakeress, as has been supposed, but a member of the established church. Her husband, who is a member of the British parliament and immensely rich, is the son of a Quaker.

John H. Keating, of Utica, N. Y., went to Georgia, the first of this month, a flaming democrat, believing the peculiar institution to be a very good thing. He returned in about a week, a radical republican, converted by his own experiences. He went as an agent to sell a patent spring bed, but the authorities of Savannah had their suspicions excited in some way, and ordered him to go back by the steamer that took him there. Perhaps they thought his bed an infernal contrivance to get up insurrections.

Hints to School Boards.

It is now about time to engage teachers and make arrangements for your fall and winter schools, therefore it becomes your duty to look well to the character and qualifications of those you employ, and to the condition of your school houses and all that pertains thereto, so as to render your schools as efficient as possible, and have the school fund judiciously expended. Being a teacher of much experience, I offer the following suggestions.

1. Employ teachers of such moral character that they will be worthy examples for your children to imitate. A teacher's character is contagious, and it ought to be so. Of course he ought to be able to teach the sciences, he must also take interest in the improvement of youth and their advancement in learning. His soul ought to be in this as much as in securing a rich office.—Those who intend to make teaching their whole business ought to be preferred.

2d. See that the house is in a proper condition—that the roof and weather boarding are sound enough to keep out the rain and snow, repair the windows where the glass is broken, mend the plastering, lining and floor so as to leave no openings for the wind to blow upon the pupils, mend the door if it needs its, put a lock on it and let the teacher have charge of the key, and repair the shutters and door pannels that have been knocked out.

3. A school house ought always to be painted and surrounded by shade trees, the play grounds ought to be clear of rubbish, the boys should have a place to play ball and the girls a place for their sports. If the walls of a school house be marked with caricatures and obscene writing it tells a bad tale about the district, visitors and travelers will notice it. An observant teacher may understand from the appearance of a school house, even in vacation, what the character of the school is. Those who have interest in the respectability of their neighborhood and who wish to invite good people to settle among them, should look to the appearance of their school houses and the character of their schools.

4. Have plenty of wood supplied, also some kindling wood, by all means have a wood house and do not put the teacher to the necessity of suspending school for want of wood or of chopping it himself; if the stove is damaged get a new one, have it blacked, have a good pipe and be sure that the flue is so contrived that it will not set fire to the house. Have a vessel to carry ashes, and do not allow it to be deposited where it may set fire to something valuable.

5. Have a clean water bucket and a drinking cup. If you have a well or a spring at the school house, have it cleaned out and protected so that no nuisance can be thrown into it. Supply brooms and hand brushes so as to keep the floor, benches and desks clean. The larger pupils ought to take turns in bringing water, sweeping and brushing, except when they are rich enough to hire it done. The teacher should regulate the fires.

6. Every school house ought to have a black-board; after two or three terms it will need repainting, this should be done so as to have it fairly dried before the school begins. Provide a supply of chalk and a box to hold it. Make a rubber by fixing a piece sheep skin, with the wool on it, to a block of a proper size to be held in the hand.

7. Attend on the first day of school and witness its commencement, and afterwards visit the school as often as possible so as to see for yourselves how it is progressing.—Your presence and a few words of exhortation (even in your homely style) addressed to the pupils will aid the teacher very much in keeping order and encouraging study.

8. Sustain the teacher in such a course of discipline as the welfare of the school requires. Peace in the school and the improvement of the pupils ought to be the standard of its administration.

9. Make yourselves well acquainted with the school law, read the reports of the superintendents of public instruction; get copies of them, the state prints them for your benefit and you will not be obliged to pay money for them. If any difficulties occur in your school write for advice to the superintendent at Madison.

10. If you allow the night gatherings, such as lyceums, spelling or singing schools, attend them yourselves and require all the young people who attend to join in the exercises. If they cannot be made as profitable as the day schools prohibit them altogether.

11. From the "New York Teacher" I copy the following receipt:

"An appliance for black-boards can be made by boiling one pound of logwood in water enough to cover it, and adding half an ounce of green vitriol (copperas.) This is superior to paint, as it stains the wood and will not wear off, dries in a few minutes and bears no gloss."

The following height of desks and seats, I copy from the first report of the Indiana superintendent:

Seat 16 inches,	front edge of desk				28	inches.
" 16	"	"	"	"	26½	"
" 14	"	"	"	"	25	"
" 13	"	"	"	"	23½	"
" 12	"	"	"	"	21	"

Children that need seats less than a foot high have no business in a public school.

G. D. HUNT.

Take Mankind As They Are.—Here is a wise remark from Mrs. Evans' novel of Adam Bede:

"These fellow mortals, every one, must be accepted as they are. You can neither straighten their noses, nor brighten their wit nor rectify their dispositions. And it is these people, among whom your life is passed, that it is needful you should tolerate, pity and love. It is these more or less ugly, stupid, inconsistent people, whose moments of goodness you should be able to admire—for whom you should cherish all possible hopes, all possible patience."

The Cleveland National Democrat states that the Eleventh Ward Wide-Awake club of Cleveland adjourned on Saturday evening in compliment, as the mover said, "to Stephen A. Douglass, who has just arrived in that that city, and to whom the Republican party was deeply indebted."

Miss Catherine E. Beecher, sister of Henry Ward Beecher, is said to have become an Episcopalian.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE, Office in Union Passenger Depot.

The California Breckinridge state convention have nominated an electoral ticket, and resolved in convention to revise the srate constitution.

The constitutional union executive committee of Pennsylvania met at Harrisburgh yesterday, and nominated a Bell and Everett electoral ticket.

Correspondence of the Janesville Gazette.

Chicago, Sept. 26th, 1860.

Eds. Gazette:—I wrote you hastily, last evening, and will scribble a little more to-night. My object in coming to this city was to attend a religious meeting, denominated in the call, the "North Western Conference." The call for the meeting had been out for some time, the purpose of the convocation being to bring about some effective plan of of organization for the more rapid spread and better support of christianity, as understood and interpreted by the Universalist denomination. Of the clergymen and laity a large number responded to the call. They came from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota.—Some sixty or seventy ministers are present, among whom, I am pleased to note, several Unitarians of eminent standing and ability. The meeting assembled yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, at the First Universalist church in this city, known as St. Paul's. After a temporary organization, Rev. A. C. Barry, of Illinois, was made president of the conference. Vice presidents, one from each of the states represented, were chosen, and three secretaries. Business committees were appointed, from whom some reports have been made to-day, and others are expected to report to-morrow. I don't wish to burden your columns with the details of our business. This much I may say with propriety,—the measures proposed, if they can be carried out, will tend largely to a genuine religious growth and prosperity.—And I am happy to add, that there is apparent in the conference, a moral earnestness and determination, on the part of clergy and laity, to make this movement tell for a great spiritual good. To this end I trust many will labor with head, heart, hand and purse, and with a zeal and perseverance that will surely overcome every obstacle.

I have really enjoyed myself in the interview thus far. 'Tis pleasant to meet and greet old friends, and, as an editor once said, have "a shaking demonstration that the muscles of their right arm are as strong as ever." Speaking of shaking hands, calls up a remark of Dickens' in his David Copperfield. On a certain accasion, David, on being introduced to one who was to be his tutor, I think, is made to speak of him in this wise: "Turning upon me a lustreless eye, that reminded me of a long-forgotten blind old horse who once used to crop the grass, and tumble over the graves, in Blunderstone church-yard, he said he was glad to see me; and then he gave me his hand; which I didn't know what to do with, as it did nothing for itself." Did you never observe that this is just the way in which some men shake hands? They may say they are glad to see you, perhaps, but when they take your hand, they are so excessively careful, and the pressure is so slight, that you can't help thinking that they are afraid of catching some contagious disease. When I salute a friend, give me the speaking eye, the grip that makes the blood tingle to the finger ends, and a right-up-and-down hearty shake that gives the body and spirit a start all over.

Yerterday and to day I have seen many friends whom I have not met before in fifteen years. These religious meetings,—these mass meetings, I mean, and the same may be said of political gatherings, are valuable, if for no other reason, that they bring people together, furnish opportunity to enlarge the circle of acquaintance, revive old friendships, and knit heart to heart more firmly by the strong ties of sympathy and fraternal love. And right here permit me to say that in society generally social intercourse is not sufficiently observed. Neighbors too frequently live and die strangers to each other. Heart needs to throb in unison with heart. Friend needs to hold fellowship with friend.

Our conference was organized, as I said, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. At 3 P. M., religious services were held by Rev. G. R. Brown of Ohio. In the evening a very interesting Sunday School meeting was held. Several good addresses were offered. The singing, by the teachers and pupils connected with the two large and prosperous Universalist Sunday Schools of this city was excellent and spirit stirring. To listen to good vocal music from the sweet lips of hundreds of children is indeed to me an entertainment of no ordinary character.—There is among our people a growing interest in behalf of the Sunday School. This morning from 8½ to 9½ a prayer meeting was held at which both the word and the spirit were truly good and devotional. At 3 o'clock P. M., a sermon of rare merit was delivered by Rev. J. S. Dennis, of Dubuque, Iowa. This evening another conference and prayer meeting has been largely attended. We have really had thus far a good time.

Some touching remarks were offered this evening by Rev. Mr. Staples, Unitarian, of Milwaukee, concerning the Lady Elgin calamity. There is still deep sorrowing over that terrible wreck of human life. How painfully must the heart of the sufferer throb as the eye runs over the daily journal, and the words, "another body found," arrest the undivided attention! O! what terrible disasters have occurred within the memory of men now living, on our waters—the great lakes and rivers and the greater ocean, as also on the many railroads that form a network all over our country! How long shall this wholesale slaughter be allowed? Is it inevitable? I do not believe it. Human recklessness is the cause.

It is late—I must close. Truly,

— W. —

The Queen's Sharks.—The harbor of Trincomalee swarms with gigantic sharks, and strange to relate, they are all under British protection; and if any one is found molesting or injuring them, the fine is £10 or an imprisonment! How this ridiculous custom originated it is hard to say; but we are told that in the early days of British conqnest in the east, sailors were apt to desert, and seek refuge in the then inaccessible wilds of the interior, and of later years when civilization has unbarred the gates of Cingalese commerce to all nations of the world, the soldiers of the regiment stationed at Trincomalee, discontented with their lot in life, were wont to escape from the thraldom of service, by swimming off to American and other vessels, preferring a chance, under a strange flag, to a hard certainty under their own. Thus the Queen's sharks are duly protected as a sort of water police for the prevention of desertion both from the army and navy.

Sold.—The Columbus (O.) Statesman edited by Geo. W. Mannypenny, recently published a poem, entitled the "Democratic Banner," ostensibly devoted to the praises of Douglas. It purported to be from a lady, and the editor was so pleased with it that he introduced it to his readers in a complimentary editorial paragraph. On more minute investigation, after it was published, it was found to be an acrostic, the first letters of each line forming the following sentence:

"Geo. W. Mannypenny is a great Jackass, and a vile old rat too boot."

William H. Glass, a member of the Cincinnati common council, was severely tho' not fatally shot in the lower jaw by a ballet girl named Eliza White, whom he had seduced and abandoned. She entered his confectionary store and asked him to arrange the difficulty that existed between them; he refused to have anything more to do with her; whereupon she drew forth a pistol, and shot him. She was immediately arrested, and then tried to commit suicide by drinking a quantity of laudanum, but by prompt remedies, her life was saved.

A Thorough Lincoln Club.—A republican club has been organized in town of Norton, Mass., whose president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and executive committee—in all seven officers—are not only true Lincoln men, but also Lincoln by name.

DIED.

In this city, Sept. 28th, MARY E., daughter of Gilbert and Juliette Augusta Dolsen, aged about 8 years.

The funeral services will be held, by Rev. Mr. Tilton, at the residence of Mr. Dolsen, to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M. Friends are invited attend.

SUCH were the stiring words of James Fitz James to the bold chieftain, Rhoderick Dhu, in the Mountain Passes of Scotland, and now

MOSES HARSH,

Proprietor of the

adopts the language of the gallant Scottish hero as his own, and defies the competition and braggart blowing of all the

in the land. From the fact that the Original

Young America Clothing House

has held for the last

EIGHT YEARS

the conceded reputation of being the best and largest and, above all, the

Cheapest Establishment

of its kind in the state. That during that time other Clothing Stores have attempted to compete with it in this city, and one after another have busted. The proprietor of the

feels that he has now the right to say it is as firmly fixed as a rock and as immovable as the everlasting hills. He knows the truth of what he says.

The People of Rock County

are his witnesses. They will not lie; nor is he under the necessity of attempting to enforce

A BOGUS LAW

upon them, to get them to purchase their

from him. He has just returned from the east, where he has purchased the

Largest and Best Stock of Clothing

of all kinds, including the finest

and the best variety of ever brought to the west. Also,

of every description, with

Pants and Vests

to match, as well as any quantity of

Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Handkercief*s*, Stocks, Under Shirts,

and every article of

Wearing Apparel

that man can want.

If to "mitigate crime and alleviate the sufferings of mankind generally," by high sounding pretenses is a virtue, then the proprietor of the

Original Young America Clothing House

does not claim that virtue. He is ready to do what he promises, The People Know It, and the thousands who have purchased, for years, their Clothing from him, from the best quality of

Hats and Caps

down to Draws and Socks, never would know what the words

"EXTRAVAGANT PRICES,"

meant, were they not to stray accidentally into other establishments pretending to compete with him.

His Merchant Tailoring Department

is unsurpassed, and his accomplished cutter,

MR. A. B. MC'LEAN,

who is at the head of it, is a gentleman of long experience and most excellent taste; the well dressed gentlemen of this city are walking witnesses of his conceded skill. Come then, one and all, if you want 17th Senatorial District Convention.

The Republicans of the 17th Senatorial District are requested to send delegates to meet in convention at the Court Room, in the city of Janesville, on FRIDAY, the 5th day of October, at 12 o'clock M., to nominate a candidate for Senator, to be supported at the ensuing election.

The wards and towns of the district will be entitled to delegates as follows:

Avon,	2	Magnolia,	4
Center,	3	Newark,	3

" { 2d ward,	2	Union,	4
" { 3d ward,	2	Rock,	3
{ 4th ward,	4

The Senatorial Committee would recommend that the delegates to this convention be chosen in the different towns and wards on Wednesday, the 3d day of October, at 2 o'clock P. M., at the place of holding the last annual town meeting, if a different time and place is not designated by the proper committees.

CITY ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.

The republicans of the city of Janesville are requested to meet in a mass convention at the Court Room in the city of Janesville, on Friday the 28th inst,

at 7½ o'clock in the evening, to nominate a candidate for member of assembly for said city, to be supported at the ensuing election.

Sept. 26th, 1860.

Wisconsin Conference.

Yesterday Rev. A. Foster preached a good, clear gospel sermon, from the words, "What think ye of Christ?" In the evening Rev. A. A. Manwell preached eloquently from Jude 3d. His theme was Zeal.

The usual session of the conference opened this morning with religious services conducted by J. Searles. Some of the usual business was transacted before ten o'clock, when the sacrament was solemnly administered, and many an eye moistened by the relations of Christian experience which followed. The Bishop told us that he was converted in a negro's house during a meeting conducted by the ladies.

Preaching this afternoon by Rev. E. Yocum, and this evening by Rev. W. H. Thompson, both of the West Wisconsin Conference.

☞ A correspondent in the Democrat finds fault with the time of calling the republican mass meeting this evening at half past seven o'clock. Considering that the same parties were not suited with the previous call at 6½ o'clock, it is pretty evident that they will gramble at whatever hour may be named. It may be proper to say, in this connection, that one of the committee informs us that Mr. Charles R. Gibbs was out of town when the call was agreed upon, and that before he left, he expressed himself in favor of another day being named, different from that fixed upon by the majority of the committee. Nothing was designed by the committee but to give an opportunity for all the republicans of the city to express themselves freely in relation to their choice of candidate for the assembly.

HURRA FOR THE JANESVILLE FIREMEN!—A private despatch from Madison to-day says that Water Witch No. 2 of this city "cleaned out" the crowd. No particulars are given, but the despatch is sufficient to hurra on. The bell at the engine house was rung in honor of the event.

LARGE CONTRACT.—Messrs. Crosby & Hickson, of La Crosse, have contracted with Hon. C. C. Washburn, to put 10,000,000 of logs into Black river, the coming winter.—They have sub-let eight millions of their contract, and intend to sub-let the remainder. They will put in two millions of logs on their own account, for their own use.

We think that a man carries the borrowing principle a trifle too far when he asks us to lend him our ears.

It has been found by oculists that when a person has only onee ye, it is invariably the left one.

"What!" exclaimed an astonished Douglasite, throwning down the paper in which he had been reading the Little Dodger's New York speech—"what I aid Abe Lincoln to force the south into submission!—hang southern men for resisting the —the—d— Why where is Douglas going to lead us?"

"To rest in Abraham's bosom," replied a Breckinridge democrat. "Follow your leader and you will soon be there."—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Why is a sheet of postage stamps like distant relations? Because they are but slightly connected.

☞ The following despatch, says the Toledo Blade, went through our telegraph office recently:

"Charley and Julia met at S——, yesterday—quarreled and parted forever—met again this morning, and parted to meet no more—met again this evening, and were married."

A NEW LIGHT.—Professor Way's electric light, in which the light is produced by a stream of electricity applied to a running stream of mercury as fine as the point of a needle, is meeting with much favor in England. It is said that there is no actual combustion of mercury, the only expense being for the acids supplied to the battery. The light is exceedingly brilliant.

"What's jography, Bill?"

"It's a tellin' of forrin lands that we know nothin' about by chaps that's never seen 'em."

Bill got a government situation.

The republicans of New York have secured the Cooper Institute for holding weekly meetings during the residue of the campaign.

☞ The Cleveland Herald, speaking of Senator Douglas' speech in that city on Saturday, says:

"We heard him when his voice rang out clear and commanding, but his enunciation on the stand on Saturday last was a two hours spasmodic bark; laborious to himself and painful to those who in vain attempted to catch his words. No term expresses the sound of his voice as well as the word bark; and the monotony of those barks, to those only a few feet from him, was too painful to be borne. Hence, excepting a few hundred, close up under the stand's front, his audience were constantly changing, for after the curiosity of a sight at Mr. Douglas was gratified, there was nothing more to stay for, as four words out of five, to these twenty feet removed from him, were inaudible.—We trust Mr. Douglas will not attribute the restlessness of his auditory to lack of good manners, but to the true cause, an utter inability to catch his words. By his side was a plate of lemons and every sentence or two he would convulsively clutch and squeeze one, swallowing the juice, so as to keep open a feeble passage to his lungs. The presidency, even if it were insured to him in November, is no compensation for the physical wear and tear he is suffering."

DREADFUL CALAMITY AT NEW ORLEANS—By the failing of the walls of a burning building in New Orleans on Friday night, forty or fifty persons were buried beneath the ruins and killed. Up to Saturday evening, fifteen of the dead bodies had been extricated, and search was still in progress.

The democracy hate the wide-awake organizations, and their organs attempt to ridicule them. Per contra, the wide-awakes don't love the democracy, and regard their attempted ridicule as an executioner does the labored levity of one about to be hanged.

The Concordia, (La.) Intelligencer is authorized to bet $10,000 that Breckinridge and Lane will get the electoral vote of all but three southern states.

ELECTIONS.—Town elections take place in Connecticut next Monday, and state elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana a week from next Tuesday.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN.—The venerable Nathaniel Willis, who was for many years editor of the Boston Recorder, has recently received a letter from an old subscriber, inclosing thirty dollars for the principal and interest of three years unpaid subscription to the Recorder, due twenty-three years ago.

The City Treasurer

Has removed his office to the room over the Meat Market on the upper bridge, and he respectfully gives notice to all who have not paid in their taxes to do so without delay, and save costs, as the time for collecting the same is drawing to a close.

Mr. Seward in Missouri.

We learn from the editorial correspondence of the Milwaukee Sentinel that Mr. Seward passed through northern Missouri, over the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad on his way to Kansas; and so far from meeting with an unfriendly reception, he was treated with respect. He had been heralded by telegraph all along the line of the road, and the people came out to see him. At Chilcothe he was invited to address the people. An audience of several hundred people were addressed by Mr. Seward in his happiest vein and with excellent effect. At St. Jo, the Senator was surprised with a reception from a company of Wide Awakes, and a band ready to accompany him to his quarters where about a thousand people greeted him with enthusiastic cheers and a warm and cordial greeting. Mr. Seward was deeply moved at the unlooked for welcome, and expressed his acknowledgments in glowing terms.

It is evident that the prejudices of the southern people against the republican party are fading away, and that when they become better acquainted with our leading men and our principles that they will regard us with no unfriendly spirit. It is something that marks progress, at any rate, that Gov. Seward can traverse the state of Missouri, be welcomed by the people and solicited to make political speeches.

The Little Giant Used Up.

Stephen A. Douglas, otherwise called the "little giant" or the "little sucker," started upon a journey some months ago, to "see his mother." On his way he very soon began to be "betrayed into a speech" by his his friends; and after this first betrayal he wandered about the country—north, south and east, making speeches and neglecting to visit his mother. The consequence of such unfilial conduct has at last overtaken him. At Cleveland, his organs of speech began to fail, and his friends were astonished to hear him attempt to talk about his "g-u-r-r-e-a-t pur-r inciple," in almost inaudible whispers, ending each word with a bark—a palpable imitation of canine sounds, which might have proceeded from a cur with a bone in his throat.

Considering that Mr. Douglas had been attacked by a multitude of diseases, while in the senate, especially when important votes were to be taken, he has surprised us with the vigor which he has displayed every day, almost, for some months, in his speeches and by his industry in travel.—Nothing but the prospect of occupying the white house or using up Breckinridge, we are certain could have sustained him in his efforts. It is astonishing that a man who has gout in the stomach, bronchitis, diarrhea, inflammatory rheumatism, has been able to do so much as he has done upon his presidential stumping expedition. It ought not, therefore, to be set down to his discredit, that after barking out some sentences of a speech, at Cleveland, Columbus and other points on his route, he should acknowledge himself used up at Cincinnati. Upon his arrival at that city, on Wednesday, Mr. Pugh announced that Mr. Douglas, having made 12 speeches within three days, and being without voice (he could not even get up a bark as he did at Cleveland,) he was unable to speak to the "immense crowd" assembled. He, however, arose and made an attempt to speak, but a low mutter was all that could be heard by those around the stand.

Is it not about time that this farce should close, and that Mr. Douglas should retire to his home and wait the verdict of the people in his case? If he has himself no more respect for the dignity of the presidential office, to which he aspires, than he has manifested, certainly those who have, and who are his friends, should take him out of the "ring" and put him to bed.

A Great Meeting in Pennsylvania.

The telegraph, last night, gave an account of the assembling of the largest republican meeting ever held in Pennsylvania, which convened at Pittsburg yesterday. Curtin, the republican candidate for governor, spoke at three stands, and was most enthusiastically cheered. Senator Wade of Ohio and Col. Curtin filled the time at the main stand until Tom Corwin arrived at three o'clock. He created a tremendous sensation, and spoke at length. At the second stand, T. Crown of, Westmoreland and Charles L. Armour of Maryland. At the third stand, A. W. Campbell of Virginia, and McMichael of Philadelphia. At the fourth stand Senator Caldwell of Virginia, and Mr. Coffey of Philadelphia. The procession contained representatives from nearly all the manufacturing establishments and work shops in the two cities, and was about an hour and a half in passing a given point. There are various estimates of the number of people on the ground, which was immense. Two hundred and fifty wide-awakes from Wheeling, Virginia, were in the procession. Carl Schurz spoke at night in Layfayette Hall to the Germans.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.—Our foreign intelligence grows interesting and exciting.—Garibaldi has become a power whom neither diplomacy nor bayonets can divert from his object—the freedom and unity of Italy. The King of Sardinia has evidently been restrained by his fears and the counsels of France from giving Garrabaldi aid and encouragement, heretofore; but the success of the "liberator of Italy," and the enthusiasm of the people of the whole Italian peninsula, in favor of throwing off the foreign yoke, and constituting themselves an independent power, is such that Victor Emanuel is obliged to take the lead of the revolution, or be crushed by it. The King has invaded the dominions of the Pope, and now there is no retreat—either the King must be dethroned and the hopes of the Italian people destroyed, or the Pope will lose his temporal power. Fortunately France is in a condition and temper to act independently of the Pope, and Louis Napoleon will probably content himself with protecting the Pope in the city of Rome, while he will permit the territories of the church, outside of Rome, to become a part of the Kingdom of Sardinia. If Austria had not revolutionary elements in her midst, she would undoubtedly march to the relief of the King of Naples and the Pope, but Hungary and Venetia would then be in a blaze of revolution, and thus she is compelled to keep the peace. Amidst such combustible material as there is now in Europe, a general insurrection of the people would not be surprising, and many persons well posted in foreign politics think that the year will not close without a general European war.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

John Henry Pierce, a lad eleven years of age, shot and killed a playmate, James Cox, at Wilton, Saratoga, in Aug. Price has just been tried on a charge of murder, which resulted in his conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree.

If the United States and its territories were as thickly populated as Great Britain, they would contain 750,000,000 of people, a number nearly equal to the whole population of the globe.

Garibaldi was a candle maker on Staten Island, N. Y., during his exile, and it is to be said to his credit, that his work, though wicked, were for a shining light in the centre of grease.

The great storm on the Gulf coast on the 16th inst., was one of the most disastrous that ever visited this country. So far, at least thirty-three lives are known to have been lost, on land and water. The loss of property in Mobile alone amounts to $740,000. Biloxi and Belize are in heaps of ruins. Pascogoula and other small towns were submerged to the depth of several feet, and nearly all the houses either blown down or washed away. The total loss along the the coast in towns and in the country, and on the gulf, is computed at millions of dollars.

FERGUSON'S PLANET.—The new asteroid discovered by Ferguson, at the national observatory, was seen at Cambridge on Friday night. It is very small—not more than 40 miles in diameter.

Nicholas Longworth, of Cincinnati, says it will be our own fault if we do not soon surpass the best wine grapes of Europe by selecting the native grapes and planting their seed. Mr. Longworth is authority in such matters.

HYMENIAL.—Hon. Edward Everett, of the N. Y. Ledger, it is pretty well understood, is going to do a much more sensible thing than heading the forlorn hope of a forlorn political party, which hasn't the ghost of a chance of ever making him president of the United States; that is to say, he is going to take unto himself a wife.—The lady is a South Carolinian, and enjoys a very respectable literary reputation there. The time for the nuptials is not definitely fixed yet, but it will probly be about Christmas.

A letter from Mrs. Gurney, the English woman who eloped with her coachman, declares the apology published in the American papers over her name to be a forgery. Mrs. Gurney is not a quakeress, as has been supposed, but a member of the established church. Her husband, who is a member of the British parliament and immensely rich, is the son of a Quaker.

John H. Keating, of Utica, N. Y., went to Georgia, the first of this month, a flaming democrat, believing the peculiar institution to be a very good thing. He returned in about a week, a radical republican, converted by his own experiences. He went as an agent to sell a patent spring bed, but the authorities of Savannah had their suspicions excited in some way, and ordered him to go back by the steamer that took him there. Perhaps they thought his bed an infernal contrivance to get up insurrections.

For the Daily Gazette.
Hints to School Boards.

It is now about time to engage teachers and make arrangements for your fall and winter schools, therefore it becomes your duty to look well to the character and qualifications of those you employ, and to the condition of your school houses and all that pertains thereto, so as to render your schools as efficient as possible, and have the school fund judiciously expended. Being a teacher of much experience, I offer the following suggestions.

1. Employ teachers of such moral character that they will be worthy examples for your children to imitate. A teacher's character is contagious, and it ought to be so. Of course he ought to be able to teach the sciences, he must also take interest in the improvement of youth and their advancement in learning. His soul ought to be in this as much as in securing a rich office.—Those who intend to make teaching their whole business ought to be preferred.

2d. See that the house is in a proper condition—that the roof and weather boarding are sound enough to keep out the rain and snow, repair the windows where the glass is broken, mend the plastering, lining and floor so as to leave no openings for the wind to blow upon the pupils, mend the door if it needs its, put a lock on it and let the teacher have charge of the key, and repair the shutters and door pannels that have been knocked out.

3. A school house ought always to be painted and surrounded by shade trees, the play grounds ought to be clear of rubbish, the boys should have a place to play ball and the girls a place for their sports. If the walls of a school house be marked with caricatures and obscene writing it tells a bad tale about the district, visitors and travelers will notice it. An observant teacher may understand from the appearance of a school house, even in vacation, what the character of the school is. Those who have interest in the respectability of their neighborhood and who wish to invite good people to settle among them, should look to the appearance of their school houses and the character of their schools.

4. Have plenty of wood supplied, also some kindling wood, by all means have a wood house and do not put the teacher to the necessity of suspending school for want of wood or of chopping it himself; if the stove is damaged get a new one, have it blacked, have a good pipe and be sure that the flue is so contrived that it will not set fire to the house. Have a vessel to carry ashes, and do not allow it to be deposited where it may set fire to something valuable.

5. Have a clean water bucket and a drinking cup. If you have a well or a spring at the school house, have it cleaned out and protected so that no nuisance can be thrown into it. Supply brooms and hand brushes so as to keep the floor, benches and desks clean. The larger pupils ought to take turns in bringing water, sweeping and brushing, except when they are rich enough to hire it done. The teacher should regulate the fires.

6. Every school house ought to have a black-board; after two or three terms it will need repainting, this should be done so as to have it fairly dried before the school begins. Provide a supply of chalk and a box to hold it. Make a rubber by fixing a piece sheep skin, with the wool on it, to a block of a proper size to be held in the hand.

7. Attend on the first day of school and witness its commencement, and afterwards visit the school as often as possible so as to see for yourselves how it is progressing.—Your presence and a few words of exhortation (even in your homely style) addressed to the pupils will aid the teacher very much in keeping order and encouraging study.

8. Sustain the teacher in such a course of discipline as the welfare of the school requires. Peace in the school and the improvement of the pupils ought to be the standard of its administration.

9. Make yourselves well acquainted with the school law, read the reports of the superintendents of public instruction; get copies of them, the state prints them for your benefit and you will not be obliged to pay money for them. If any difficulties occur in your school write for advice to the superintendent at Madison.

10. If you allow the night gatherings, such as lyceums, spelling or singing schools, attend them yourselves and require all the young people who attend to join in the exercises. If they cannot be made as profitable as the day schools prohibit them altogether.

11. From the "New York Teacher" I copy the following receipt:

"An appliance for black-boards can be made by boiling one pound of logwood in water enough to cover it, and adding half an ounce of green vitriol (copperas.) This is superior to paint, as it stains the wood and will not wear off, dries in a few minutes and bears no gloss."

The following height of desks and seats, I copy from the first report of the Indiana superintendent:

Seat	16 inches,	front edge of desk			28 inches.
"	15	"	"	"	26½	"
"	14	"	"	"	25	"
"	13	"	"	"	23½	"
"	12	"	"	"	21	"

Children that need seats less than a foot high have no business in a public school.

G. D. HUNT.

TAKE MANKIND AS THEY ARE.—Here is a wise remark from Mrs. Evans' novel of Adam Bede:

"These fellow mortals, every one, must be accepted as they are. You can neither straighten their noses, nor brighten their wit nor rectify their dispositions. And it is these people, among whom your life is passed, that it is needful you should tolerate, pity and love. It is these more or less ugly, stupid, inconsistent people, whose moments of goodness you should be able to admire—for whom you should cherish all possible hopes, all possible patience."

The Cleveland National Democrat states that the Eleventh Ward Wide-Awake club of Cleveland adjourned on Saturday evening in compliment, as the mover said, "to Stephen A. Douglass, who has just arrived in that that city, and to whom the Republican party was deeply indebted."

Miss Catherine E. Beecher, sister of Henry Ward Beecher, is said to have become an Episcopalian.

Telegraphic.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.

BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

[Our report came in at so late an hour to-day that we are compelled to condense it.]

Senator Douglas arrived at Indianapolis last evening. He was to speak at the democratic state convention to-day, and other places in the state.

The California Breckinridge state convention have nominated an electoral ticket, and resolved in convention to revise the state constitution.

The constitutional union executive committee of Pennsylvania met at Harrisburgh yesterday, and nominated a Bell and Everett electoral ticket.

Correspondence of the Janesville Gazette.
CHICAGO, Sept. 26th, 1860.

EDS. GAZETTE:—I wrote you hastily, last evening, and will scribble a little more to-night. My object in coming to this city was to attend a religious meeting, denominated in the call, the "North Western Conference." The call for the meeting had been out for some time, the purpose of the convocation being to bring about some effective plan of organization for the more rapid spread and better support of christianity, as understood and interpreted by the Universalist denomination. Of the clergymen and laity a large number responded to the call. They came from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Minnesota.—Some sixty or seventy ministers are present, among whom, I am pleased to note, several Unitarians of eminent standing and ability. The meeting assembled yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, at the First Universalist church in this city, known as St. Paul's. After a temporary organization, Rev. A. C. Barry, of Illinois, was made president of the conference. Vice presidents, one from each of the states represented, were chosen, and three secretaries. Business committees were appointed, from whom some reports have been made to-day, and others are expected to report to-morrow. I don't wish to burden your columns with the details of our business. This much I may say with propriety,—the measures proposed, if they can be carried out, will tend largely to a genuine religious growth and prosperity.—And I am happy to add, that there is apparent in the conference, a moral earnestness and determination, on the part of clergy and laity, to make this movement tell for a great spiritual good. To this end I trust many will labor with head, heart, hand and purse, and with a zeal and perseverance that will surely overcome every obstacle.

I have really enjoyed myself in the interview thus far. 'Tis pleasant to meet and greet old friends, and, as an editor once said, have "a shaking demonstration that the muscles of their right arm are as strong as ever." Speaking of shaking hands, calls up a remark of Dickens' in his David Copperfield. On a certain accasion, David, on being introduced to one who was to be his tutor, I think, is made to speak of him in this wise: "Turning upon me a lustreless eye, that reminded me of a long-forgotten blind old horse who once used to crop the grass, and tumble over the graves, in Blunderstone church-yard, he said he was glad to see me; and then he gave me his hand; which I didn't know what to do with, as it did nothing for itself." Did you never observe that this is just the way in which some men shake hands? They may say they are glad to see you, perhaps, but when they take your hand, they are so excessively careful, and the pressure is so slight, that you can't help thinking that they are afraid of catching some contagious disease. When I salute a friend, give me the speaking eye, the grip that makes the blood tingle to the finger ends, and a right-up-and-down hearty shake that gives the body and spirit a start all over.

Yerterday and to day I have seen many friends whom I have not met before in fifteen years. These religious meetings,—these mass meetings, I mean, and the same may be said of political gatherings, are valuable, if for no other reason, that they bring people together, furnish opportunity to enlarge the circle of acquaintance, revive old friendships, and knit heart to heart more firmly by the strong ties of sympathy and fraternal love. And right here permit me to say that in society generally social intercourse is not sufficiently observed. Neighbors too frequently live and die strangers to each other. Heart needs to throb in unison with heart. Friend needs to hold fellowship with friend.

Our conference was organized, as I said, yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. At 3 P. M., religious services were held by Rev. G. R. Brown of Ohio. In the evening a very interesting Sunday School meeting was held. Several good addresses were offered. The singing, by the teachers and pupils connected with the two large and prosperous Universalist Sunday Schools of this city was excellent and spirit stirring. To listen to good vocal music from the sweet lips of hundreds of children is indeed to me an entertainment of no ordinary character.—There is among our people a growing interest in behalf of the Sunday School. This morning from 8½ to 9½ a prayer meeting was held at which both the word and the spirit were truly good and devotional. At 3 o'clock P. M., a sermon of rare merit was delivered by Rev. J. S. Dennis, of Dubuque, Iowa. This evening another conference and prayer meeting has been largely attended. We have really had thus far a good time.

Some touching remarks were offered this evening by Rev. Mr. Staples, Unitarian, of Milwaukee, concerning the Lady Elgin calamity. There is still deep sorrowing over that terrible wreck of human life. How painfully must the heart of the sufferer throb as the eye runs over the daily journal, and the words, "another body found," arrest the undivided attention! O! what terrible disasters have occurred within the memory of men now living, on our waters—the great lakes and rivers and the greater ocean, as also on the many railroads that form a network all over our country! How long shall this wholesale slaughter be allowed? Is it inevitable? I do not believe it. Human recklessness is the cause.

It is late—I must close. Truly,

— W. —

THE QUEEN'S SHARKS.—The harbor of Trincomalee swarms with gigantic sharks, and strange to relate, they are all under British protection; and if any one is found molesting or injuring them, the fine is £10 or an imprisonment! How this ridiculous custom originated it is hard to say; but we are told that in the early days of British conquest in the east, sailors were apt to desert, and seek refuge in the then inaccessible wilds of the interior, and of later years when civilization has unbarred the gates of Cingalese commerce to all nations of the world, the soldiers of the regiment stationed at Trincomalee, discontented with their lot in life, were wont to escape from the thraldom of service, by swimming off to American and other vessels, preferring a chance, under a strange flag, to a hard certainty under their own. Thus the Queen's sharks are duly protected as a sort of water police for the prevention of desertion both from the army and navy.

SOLD.—The Columbus (O.) Statesman edited by Geo. W. Mannypenny, recently published a poem, entitled the "Democratic Banner," ostensibly devoted to the praises of Douglas. It purported to be from a lady, and the editor was so pleased with it that he introduced it to his readers in a complimentary editorial paragraph. On more minute investigation, after it was published, it was found to be an acrostic, the first letters of each line forming the following sentence:

"Geo. W. Mannypenny is a great jackass, and a vile old rat too boot."

William H. Glass, a member of the Cincinnati common council, was severely tho' not fatally shot in the lower jaw by a ballet girl named Eliza White, whom he had seduced and abandoned. She entered his confectionary store and asked him to arrange the difficulty that existed between them; he refused to have anything more to do with her; whereupon she drew forth a pistol, and shot him. She was immediately arrested, and then tried to commit suicide by drinking a quantity of laudanum, but by prompt remedies, her life was saved.

A THOROUGH LINCOLN CLUB.—A republican club has been organized in town of Norton, Mass., whose president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and executive committee—in all seven officers—are not only true Lincoln men, but also Lincoln by name.

FURNITURE STORE!
N. SWAGER,

LATE of the firm of L. Moses & Co., would announce to the citizens of Janesville, Rock and adjoining counties that he has made a large addition to his former stock of which, for beauty, style and cheapness cannot be surpassed by any competitor west of New York and Boston. Among my numerous articles I will only mention Tete a Tete Sofas, Easy Chairs, Sofa Chairs, Rocking and Sewing Chairs, Spring and Bed Lounges, Center Tables with Marble and Mahogany tops, Card Tables, Teapoy, Quartets and Whatnots, Looking Glasses with Rosewood, Gilt and Mahogany Frames, Looking Glass Plates of all sizes, Secretaries and Bureaus of Mahogany and Blackwalnut, Extension, Dinning, Breakfast and Kitchen Tables, Washstands, Washstand Bureaus, Enclosed Washstands and Cinque Wash-Cane Seat, Flag Seat and Wooden Seat Chairs of every description, Bedsteads of all kinds, Mattrasses and Pillows of Hair and Feathers.

Parlor and Common Furniture,

I would call the attention to my exclusive right for Rock county to manufacture and sell the

Self-Adjusting Spring Bed,

(Robinson's patent) and Bed Bottom Spring Bed, (patented in 1859 by Benjamin F. S. Monroe of Utica, N. Y.) I am prepared to furnish these excellent and best articles now in use in that line, they are much cheaper and more durable than the ordinary spring bed, and they have received premiums at different fairs in the eastern states and are now used in the principal hotels in all the large cities.

N. B.—As I buy my stock, materials, &c., direct from the manufacturers and importers, for Cash, I am enabled to sell cheaper than any establishment in the furniture line west of New York and Boston.

YOUNG AMERICA FOREVER!

"Come one, come all, this Rock shall fly
From its firm base, as soon as I."

SUCH were the stiring words of James Fitz James to the bold chieftain, Rhoderick Dhu, in the Mountain Passes of Scotland, and now

MOSES HARSH,
Proprietor of the
Original Young America CLOTHING HOUSE,

adopts the language of the gallant Scottish hero as his own, and defies the competition and braggart blowing of all the

Petty Slop Shops

in the land. From the fact that the Original

Young America Clothing House

has held for the last

EIGHT YEARS

the conceded reputation of being the best and largest and, above all, the

Cheapest Establishment

of its kind in the state. That during that time other Clothing Stores have attempted to compete with it in this city, and one after another have busted. The proprietor of the

feels that he has now the right to say it is as firmly fixed as a rock and as immovable as the everlasting hills. He knows the truth of what he says.

The People of Rock County

are his witnesses. They will not lie; nor is he under the necessity of attempting to enforce

A BOGUS LAW

upon them, to get them to purchase their

Fall and Winter Clothing

from him. He has just returned from the east, where he has purchased the

Largest and Best Stock of Clothing

of all kinds, including the finest

CLOTH COATS, CASSIMERE COATS,

and the best variety of

BEAVER OVERCOATS!

ever brought to the west. Also,

Ready Made Clothing for Men & Boy's Wear,

of every description, with

Pants and Vests

to match, as well as any quantity of

Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Handkerciefs, Stocks, Under Shirts,

and every article of

Wearing Apparel

that man can want.

If to "mitigate crime and alleviate the sufferings of mankind generally," by high sounding pretenses is a virtue, then the proprietor of the

Original Young America Clothing House

does not claim that virtue. He is ready to do what he promises, THE PEOPLE KNOW IT, and the thousands who have purchased, for years, their Clothing from him, from the best quality of

Hats and Caps

down to Draws and Socks, never would know what the words

"EXTRAVAGANT PRICES,"

meant, were they not to stray accidentally into other establishments pretending to compete with him.

His Merchant Tailoring Department

is unsurpassed, and his accomplished cutter,

MR. A. B. MC'LEAN,

who is at the head of it, is a gentleman of long experience and most excellent taste; the well dressed gentlemen of this city are walking witnesses of his conceded skill. Come then, one and all, if you want

CHEAP CLOTHING,

to the

Original Young America Clothing House

next door south of L. R. Carswell's Grocery Store.

THIS Institution is strictly a Family Boarding School, and is under the immediate supervision of Prof. TURNER, formerly of Utica, N. Y. Prof. Turner's long experience as a teacher, the beautiful and ample playgrounds attached to his residence and Academy, and their healthful position, recommend them to the parents who should wish to confide their children to the care of Prof. Turner, who will superintend the studies of the Institution, and give his particular attention to the modern languages. The French, being the language of the family, will be the language of the Institution.—German and Spanish are also written and spoken. Wisconsin Conference.

Yesterday Rev. A. Foster preached a good, clear gospel sermon, from the words, "What think ye of Christ?" In the evening Rev. A. A. Manwell preached eloquently from Jude 3d. His theme was Zeal.

The usual session of the conference opened this morning with religious services conducted by J. Searles. Some of the usual business was transacted before ten o'clock, when the sacrament was solemnly administered, and many an eye moistened by the relations of Christian experience which followed. The Bishop told us that he was converted in a negro's house during a meeting conducted by the ladies.

Preaching this afternoon by Rev. E. Yocum, and this evening by Rev. W. H. Thompson, both of the West Wisconsin Conference.

☞ A correspondent in the Democrat finds fault with the time of calling the republican mass meeting this evening at half past seven o'clock. Considering that the same parties were not suited with the previous call at 6½ o'clock, it is pretty evident that they will grumble at whatever hour may be named. It may be proper to say, in this connection, that one of the committee informs us that Mr. Charles R. Gibbs was out of town when the call was agreed upon, and that before he left, he expressed himself in favor of another day being named, different from that fixed upon by the majority of the committee. Nothing was designed by the committee but to give an opportunity for all the republicans of the city to express themselves freely in relation to their choice of candidate for the assembly.

HOORA FOR THE JANESVILLE FIREMEN!—A private despatch from Madison to-day says that Water Witch No. 2 of this city "cleaned out" the crowd. No particulars are given, but the despatch is sufficient to hurra on. The bell at the engine house was rung in honor of the event.

LARGE CONTRACT.—Messrs. Crosby & Hickson, of La Crosse, have contracted with Hon. C. C. Washburn, to put 10,000,000 of logs into Black river, the coming winter.—They have sub let eight millions of their contract, and intend to sub-let the remainder. They will put in two millions of logs on their own account, for their own use.

We think that a man carries the borrowing principle a trifle too far when he asks us to lend him our ears.

It has been found by oculists that when a person has only onee ye, it is invariably the left one.

"What!" exclaimed an anstonished Douglasite, throwning down the paper in which he had been reading the Little Dodger's New York speech—"what! aid Abe Lincoln to force the south into submission!—hang southern men for resisting the —the—d— Why where is Douglas going to lead us?"

"To rest in Abraham's bosom," replied a Breckinridge democrat. "Follow your leader and you will soon be there."—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Why is a sheet of postage stamps like distant relations? Because they are but slightly connected.

☞ The following despatch, says the Toledo Blade, went through our telegraph office recently:

"Charley and Julia met at S——, yesterday—quarreled and parted forever—met again this morning, and parted to meet no more—met again this evening, and were married."

A NEW LIGHT.—Professor Way's electric light, in which the light is produced by a stream of electricity applied to a running stream of mercury as fine as the point of a needle, is meeting with much favor in England. It is said that there is no actual combustion of mercury, the only expense being for the acids supplied to the battery. The light is exceedingly brilliant.

"What's jography, Bill?"

"It's a tellin' of forrin lands that we know nothin' about by chaps that's never seen 'em."

Bill got a government situation.

The republicans of New York have secured the Cooper Institute for holding weekly meetings during the residue of the campaign.

☞ The Cleveland Herald, speaking of Senator Douglas' speech in that city on Saturday, says:

"We heard him when his voice rang out clear and commanding, but his enunciation on the stand on Saturday last was a two hours spasmodic bark; laborious to himself and painful to those who in vain attempted to catch his words. No term expresses the sound of his voice as well as the word bark; and the monotony of those barks, to those only a few feet from him, was too painful to be borne. Hence, excepting a few hundred, close up under the stand's front, his audience were constantly changing, for after the curiosity of a sight at Mr. Douglas was gratified, there was nothing more to stay for, as four words out of five, to these twenty feet removed from him, were inaudible.—We trust Mr. Douglas will not attribute the restlessness of his auditory to lack of good manners, but to the true cause, an utter inability to catch his words. By his side was a plate of lemons and every sentence or two he would convulsively clutch and squeeze one, swallowing the juice, so as to keep open a feeble passage to his lungs. The presidency, even if it were insured to him in November, is no compensation for the physical wear and tear he is suffering."

DREADFUL CALAMITY AT NEW ORLEANS—By the falling of the walls of a burning building in New Orleans on Friday night, forty or fifty persons were buried beneath the ruins and killed. Up to Saturday evening, fifteen of the dead bodies had been extricated, and search was still in progress.

The democracy hate the wide-awake organizations, and their organs attempt to ridicule them. Per contra, the wide-awakes don't love the democracy, and regard their attempted ridicule as an executioner does the labored levity of one about to be hanged.

The Concordia, (La.) Intelligencer is authorized to bet $10,000 that Breckinridge and Lane will get the electoral vote of all but three southern states.

ELECTIONS.—Town elections take place in Connecticut next Monday, and state elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana a week from next Tuesday.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN.—The venerable Nathaniel Willis, who was for many years editor of the Boston Recorder, has recently received a letter from an old subscriber, inclosing thirty dollars for the principal and interest of three years unpaid subscription to the Recorder, due twenty-three years ago.

17th Senatorial District Convention.

The Republicans of the 17th Senatorial District are requested to send delegates to meet in convention at the Court Room, in the city of Janesville, on FRIDAY, the 6th day of October, at 12 o'clock M., to nominate a candidate for Senator, to be supported at the ensuing election.

The wards and towns of the district will be entitled to delegates as follows:

The Senatorial Committee would recommend that the delegates to this convention be chosen in the different towns and wards on Wednesday, the 3d day of October, at 2 o'clock P. CITY ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.

The republicans of the city of Janesville are requested to meet in a mass convention at the Court Room in the city of Janesville, on

Friday the 28th inst,

at 7½ o'clock in the evening, to nominate a candidate for member of assembly for said city, to be supported at the ensuing election.

O. J. DEARBORN,

C. R. GIBBS, } Dist. Com.

Sept. 26th, 1860.

Wisconsin Conference.

Yesterday Rev. A. Foster preached a good, clear gospel sermon, from the words, "What think ye of Christ?" In the evening Rev. A. A. Manwell preached eloquently from Jude 3d. His theme was Zeal.

The usual session of the conference opened this morning with religious services conducted by J. Searles. Some of the usual business was transacted before ten o'clock, when the sacrament was solemnly administered, and many an eye moistened by the relations of Christian experience which followed. The Bishop told us that he was converted in a negro's house during a meeting conducted by the ladies.

Preaching this afternoon by Rev. E. Yocum, and this evening by Rev. W. H. Thompson, both of the West Wisconsin Conference.

☞ A correspondent in the Democrat finds fault with the time of calling the republican mass meeting this evening at half past seven o'clock. Considering that the same parties were not suited with the previous call at 6½ o'clock, it is pretty evident that they will grumble at whatever hour may be named. It may be proper to say, in this connection, that one of the committee informs us that Mr. Charles R. Gibbs was out of town when the call was agreed upon, and that before he left, he expressed himself in favor of another day being named, different from that fixed upon by the majority of the committee. Nothing was designed by the committee but to give an opportunity for all the republicans of the city to express themselves freely in relation to their choice of candidate for the assembly.

HURRA FOR THE JANESVILLE FIREMEN!—A private despatch from Madison to-day says that Water Witch No. 2 of this city "cleaned out" the crowd. No particulars are given, but the despatch is sufficient to harra on. The bell at the engine house was rung in honor of the event.

LARGE CONTRACT.—Messrs. Crosby & Hickson, of La Crosse, have contracted with Hon. C. C. Washburn, to put 10,000,000 of logs into Black river, the coming winter.—They have sub-let eight millions of their contract, and intend to sub-let the remainder. They will put in two millions of logs on their own account, for their own use.

We think that a man carries the borrowing principle a trifle too far when he asks us to lend him our ears.

It has been found by oculists that when a person has only onee ye, it is invariably the left one.

"What!" exclaimed an anstonished Douglasite, throwing down the paper in which he had been reading the Little Dodger's New York speech—"what! aid Abe Lincoln to force the south into submission!—hang southern men for resisting the—the—d— Why where is Douglas going to lead us?"

"To rest in Abraham's bosom," replied a Breckinridge democrat. "Follow your leader and you will soon be there."—Savannah (Ga.) News.

Why is a sheet of postage stamps like distant relations? Because they are but slightly connected.

☞ The following despatch, says the Toledo Blade, went through our telegraph office recently:

"Charley and Julia met at S——, yesterday—quarreled and parted forever—met again this morning, and parted to meet no more—met again this evening, and were married."

A NEW LIGHT.—Professor Way's electric light, in which the light is produced by a stream of electricity applied to a running stream of mercury as fine as the point of a needle, is meeting with much favor in England. It is said that there is no actual combustion of mercury, the only expense being for the acids supplied to the battery. The light is exceedingly brilliant.

"What's jography, Bill?"

"It's a tellin' of forrin lands that we know nothin' about by chaps that's never seen 'em."

Bill got a government situation.

The republicans of New York have secured the Cooper Institute for holding weekly meetings during the residue of the campaign.

☞ The Cleveland Herald, speaking of Senator Douglas' speech in that city on Saturday, says:

"We heard him when his voice rang out clear and commanding, but his enunciation on the stand on Saturday last was a two hours spasmodic bark; laborious to himself and painful to those who in vain attempted to catch his words. No term expresses the sound of his voice as well as the word bark; and the monotony of those barks, to those only a few feet from him, was too painful to be borne. Hence, excepting a few hundred, close up under the stand's front, his audience were constantly changing, for after the curiosity of a sight at Mr. Douglas was gratified, there was nothing more to stay for, as four words out of five, to these twenty feet removed from him, were inaudible.—We trust Mr. Douglas will not attribute the restlessness of his auditory to lack of good manners, but to the true cause, an utter inability to catch his words. By his side was a plate of lemons and every sentence or two he would convulsively clutch and squeeze one, swallowing the juice, so as to keep open a feeble passage to his lungs. The presidency, even if it were insured to him in November, is no compensation for the physical wear and tear he is suffering."

DREADFUL CALAMITY AT NEW ORLEANS—By the falling of the walls of a burning building in New Orleans on Friday night, forty or fifty persons were buried beneath the ruins and killed. Up to Saturday evening, fifteen of the dead bodies had been extricated, and search was still in progress.

The democracy hate the wide-awake organizations, and their organs attempt to ridicule them. Per contra, the wide-awakes don't love the democracy, and regard their attempted ridicule as an executioner does the labored levity of one about to be hanged.

The Concordia, (La.) Intelligencer is authorized to bet $10,000 that Breckinridge and Lane will get the electoral vote of all but three southern states.

ELECTIONS.—Town elections take place in Connecticut next Monday, and state elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana a week from next Tuesday.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN.—The venerable Nathaniel Willis, who was for many years editor of the Boston Recorder, has recently received a letter from an old subscriber, inclosing thirty dollars for the principal and interest of three years unpaid subscription to the Recorder, due twenty-three years ago.

The City Treasurer

Has removed his office to the room over the Meat Market on the upper bridge, and he respectfully gives notice to all who have not paid in their taxes to do so without delay, and save costs, as the time for collecting the same is drawing to a close.
